The Most Innovative Closet to Hide Your Lover

Gleeden develops the first closet with a secret compartment to hide your lover safely and discreetly

"My husband's home!"

A husband who returns earlier than expected, a woman panicked, a lover who tries to hide in a closet... but who inevitably ends up being caught, naked and ashamed. As much as this situation can be hilarious, it is actually a real issue, dreaded by men and women engaged in infidelity worldwide.

There are many ways to hide your lover in case your spouse returns unexpectedly: in the bathroom, under the bed, on the balcony... But the most coveted hideaway, although cliché, has to be the bedroom closet.

That's why Gleeden, the leader in extramarital relationships with nearly 6 million members around the world, has decided to tackle this universal symbol of infidelity by turning it into an ally.

A secret compartment to hide your lover

Gleeden have invented a new closet which enables your lover to disappear in a few seconds. While it may look almost dull, it actually hides a secret compartment to hide in in case of emergency.

Access to the hiding place can be found through a small door located in the back of the closet. Once closed from the inside, it is impossible for a suspicious husband to find.

A comfortable place to wait it out

In addition to providing a discreet and secure place for the lover to hide, Gleeden's closet allows the hider to wait patiently until they can sneak out.

Equipped with a retractable seat and a quiet ventilation system, there is also a reserve of water and food for which would last up to 72 hours. In case of intense stress, an oxygen mask is also available at the push of a button.

Because Gleeden thought of everything, the closet also has a headlamp (to find your way more easily in the dark), magazines, and a tablet (and headphones) with more than 300 films. And the cherry on top of the cake, you will find a plumber outfit in there, which can be used to escape discreetly and without tipping off nosy neighbours. What more could you want?

Pre-orders are already available

Gleeden's closet, which has been given a starting price of $499 is already available for pre-order on the crowdfunding platform Indiegogo. Once 2,000 units have been preordered then production will begin. Don't miss out, make sure to reserve yours today!
